PARTICIPANTS' FEEDBACK

JAMSHID KHODJAEV
Deputy Prime Minister of Uzbekistan

– Uzbekistan Energy Week is an important industry event. It is far more than an exhibition or conference. It is a working platform where partnerships are built, agreements are signed, technologies are presented and investors discover real opportunities. Our objective is clear: to position Uzbekistan not simply as a growing energy market, but as a reliable, modern and integrated energy partner for the region and the wider international community. I am confident that Energy Week will contribute to the launch of new initiatives, the strengthening of international cooperation, and the development of a modern, reliable and sustainable energy system.

PHILIP MSHELBILO
Secretary General
Gas Exporting Countries Forum

– I was pleased to participate in the panel session alongside ministers from across the region. Cooperation remains critically important, particularly at a time when global crises clearly demonstrate the need for countries to strengthen resilience, diversification and flexibility. Today's session was highly productive, and I sincerely hope that Uzbekistan will join the Gas Exporting Countries Forum in the very near future.

DENIS MOROZ
Minister of Energy of the Republic of Belarus

– During the Forum, we held discussions with the Ministry of Energy of Uzbekistan and reached a preliminary agreement to establish a joint working group between our two ministries. Uzbekistan is currently moving forward with the construction of a nuclear power plant, while Belarus has already completed this process, and we are ready to share our practical experience. In addition, our countries have common interests in the development of electric transport, the transition to electric heating for households, and the expansion of power grid infrastructure, all of which are becoming increasingly important in both markets. We agreed to strengthen cooperation in these areas, and this Forum has become the starting point for concrete joint initiatives.

ATSUKO HIROSE
Acting Secretary-General
Energy Charter Secretariat

– Uzbekistan is an important signatory to the Energy Charter Treaty. We are united by a common objective: the development of the energy sector and investment cooperation, and this Forum plays an important role in advancing these goals by bringing together governments, international organisations and investors to support regional energy integration. This is particularly relevant in today's geopolitical environment. The Middle Corridor, connecting Europe, the Caucasus, Central Asia and the Far East, is of strategic importance for the stability of energy supplies, regional energy security and the growing interdependence of the wider region.
